Deba Harper is a Visionary with a dream that led her to relocate from Los Angeles to Detroit. She is a thought leader carrying the message of the intersectionality between real estate and workforce development for creating a new middle class in Detroit. Ms. Harper's lived experience is the seed of CHAMP Nation. Her struggle to rebuild her life from the economic downturn gave birth to the supportive housing program Life Bridge for people to journey from poverty to prosperity.

For nearly three decades, Ms. Harper continues to be a Systems Shifter. She has been instrumental in developing emerging technologies, pioneering innovative systems, and implementing human-centric business solutions. She has supported small businesses, non-profits, government agencies, and global corporations in the entertainment, manufacturing, and real estate industries. Now she uses her talents for social impact in underserved communities toward economic mobility with Tech CHAMP+ion Career Development access opportunities in an evolving world of innovation.
